what the party stands for in this campaign.

Mr. Bracken said that on the main issue Prime Minister King did not have a chance to win, and would not take 25 seats in the eight ridings he contested. "Quite the same in every province the people feel they have been deceived."

MEETING CHARMED

Mr. Milner, K.C., who was chairman of the Winnipeg convention at which Mr. Bracken was elected leader of the party, was chairman of his meeting here. Introducing Mr. Bracken, he said: "We are fortunate to have him for a leader, and it was fortunate also for Western Canada that he is a leader who keeps the problems of western agriculture, and was prepared to assume his responsibilities with their rightful share of the national income."

He said it was not surprising that 11 out of the 15 candidates nominated on the party's slate in the Great War, three were business men and one lawyer.

He said the candidates were the most outstanding ever to represent the party in the legislature.

Mr. Milner said that for 25 years Canada had suffered under the leadership of the Conservatives. It is not surprising that a former man becomes the leader after June 11.

He said as a consequence Mr.
Bracken, in the audience, Mr.
Bracken was presented with a

Ronald Marshall, K.C., and Mrs.

Northern Alberta riding.

Mr. Milner said that the Progressive Conservative party would send

Churchill Names Members of New U.K. Government

former air secretary, was among the 10 new ministers appointed who stepped out of the coalition government which had prosecuted
the war.

The Prime Minister has final say in the composition of his inner cabinet, and it will yet be to be decided whether Mr. Churchill, in viewing the war cabinet Labor ministers comprised the reconstructed inner cabinet. "Men are necessary to carry on Canada's fair share of responsibility for the victory ending of the war in the Pacific," he said.

"Will we be left to that if none of the Canadian armed forces, who have already fought so well, fight again, except as they choose to volunteer without any inducement?"

"And instead as Canadian troops have been promised or required,
will we physically fit N.R.N.A. troops, thereby giving a practical application
to our policy of equality?"

"What does that mean?"

Asked Mr. Bracken, "What will expect Mr. King's home army to do in the fighting in the balance of the war?"

MANPOWER POLICIES

Mr. Bracken said that a great effort is being made by Mr. King and the Liberal press to induce the people to believe that the manpower policy of the Progressive Conservative Association is in direct conflict with one another. Does anyone have an official statement of Canada's Pacific war policy, not but one responsible statement?"

"Let me remind you that my party has never had a more determined stand than I have had before this party since December, 1942, in our efforts to secure the maximum number of the privileges of citizenship to the minimum."

"When our share of the burden of fighting Japan is assumed, how much share to be borne by Canada?"

"Let us be peremptory in this country a system whereby one area sends 40 per cent of its available men to the front while another area sends 10 per cent?"

"Is the patriotism of our sons to be measured so that some Canadians may remain safely at home?"

"Are your sons to go abroad and "I was then the premier of Manitoba.

You will also remember that in the Manitoba government, the Legislature of that province unanimously passed a resolution in favor of conscription."

"Mr. King now says that the people of Canada are not willing to have their boys sent to the front in Africa, Italy, France, etc. Is that so?"

"As leader of this party I have not endorsed, nor do I endorse any and every measure of the Progressive Conservative party."

Mr. Bracken said that he had been told that he had a recent message from Mr. Churchill which got cut out by the press.

"I believe today, as I believed then, that the best way to increase our manpower policy of Mr. King was to make him unfair and unjust to the people, and to force him to do what he has been doing all along, as has been done in this country in this time of war."

"Tell them that the constitutional rights of freedom of religion and civil code will be scrupulously respected, tell them they will have equal rights enjoyed by other Canadians."

"Tell them that the basis of such a policy they can face the world with confidence, and children's future with confidence and without fear; and that there is no other just way by which the Government can meet the needs of all Canada in the post-war period."

"Tell them we mean to preserve Confederation, tell them it can be preserved on a basis of equal rights and equal service, and in no other way."

deceived, as they have been deceived in the past, and that some others, but that it will expect as much."

Dr. Alf Kristoffersen, leader of the Norwegian Methodist Church, has announced in Oslo that plans are being made to publish a Free Church newspaper in Norway. Recalling that the Free Churches were instrumental in the persecution of Jews in Norway, Dr. Kristoffersen, who was imprisoned during the Nazi occupation, declared that "the front against the Germans has been changed to a united religious front."

I am sure," he added, "that unity between the Free Church association will continue."

Dr. Kristoffersen was president of a joint committee of all Free Church organizations in Norway, including the Methodist Church, which was imprisoned during the Nazi occupation, declared that "the front against the Germans has been changed to a united religious front."

NIGHT fans who like action received reasonably good dividends on the trip out to the Arena to view the final bouts of the Alaskan Division Golden Gloves boxing tournament on Friday night. Seven titles were handed out and Cpl. Charles McGowan of Edmonton and Pfc. Billy Petersen of Nome were the only repeaters.

Emerson versus Berkowitz and Sellerius versus McGowanights provided the highlights. Both men are helped by their record and Kuchtenbord didn't need any urging to mix both and the heavyweights section between McClelland and Sullinger were fast and furious while they lasted.

The heated Arena also helped when the heat section of the previous night when the inside temperature couldn't have been more than 40 degrees, was finally prevailing outside.

The 35th AAF hand also was appreciated.

HERE AND THERE

ALTHOUGH it was most of the day, the Ladd Field nine which played against Yanks here last August have been transferred elsewhere. The Fairbanks team, which admits having will again be a major activity at Fairbanks.

Six service teams will operate in the Fairbanks area. The first eight more will move up a regular circuit. A few extras are included in the list of play-

Betty Carveth, former Walk-Rite pitcher, who went to the All-American girls in ball team competition, has signed with the Rockford, Ill., Peaches. Helen Niedl Fox has been with Kenosha, Wis., since the start of the year. With South Bend again, Helen and Margaret Callaghan, ex-Vancouver Mariners, will be back again. The Fairbanks team has two summers ago had both with Fort Wayne Ind.

R. F. Blackmer, who has just turned 21, is now manager of the office of president of the Canadian Athletic Club, held that position ever since the inception of the club and has done valuable work for the organization.

His services however, will end in October, as he has continued as a director. The new presx is also an original member, and during recent years has been chairman of the hockey committee.

Laurie Garrett will be the starting pitcher for U.S. Signalmen's amateur baseball team. He and his league leaders should for their third straight win. Tommy Brami is expected to be his opponent.

Longest Harvest Given by These Freeze-proof Crops

Two vegetables which can be stored indefinitely without freezing.

Both are late season vegetables taking four months to mature and should be sown in the spring. In well fed soil, each square foot of a balanced plant will supply as much as 10 lbs. of greens. This is more than enough to go into soups and stews.

Salsify is the vegetable master which gets its name because when cooked its flavor resembles that of onions. Roots are white and slender and seldom more than one-half an inch in thickness. Roots and stems are at their best after being frozen.

Turnips are the most interesting vegetable to lack pungency as an accompaniment to the bland appearance of the root. Turnips also exude a milky juice which turns black when exposed to the air. It is this juice which gives turnip water which has been acidulated by the addition of vinegar. Turnips are away with the discarded peels.

It is cooked by dipping it in batter and frying it in deep fat, boiling and creaming. In either case, turnips are delicious.

Kale is a third vegetable which is improved by freezing, and can be stored for months. It has a sharp taste which has been compared to Christmas trees. It bears thick, fringed leaves resembling broccoli in flavor.

comes in fine condition to eat, are parsnips and salsify. They freeze, like other plants, but for some reason freezing does not injure them.

Three Vegetables That Can Be Grown During Six Months' Freezing Improves Their Flavor.

Make Rows Straight and True in Victory Garden

Use Stakes and a Heavy Cord to Layout Your Garden Rows.

To make a garden drill you need three basic pieces. But you must measure to ensure a good fit. A general rule is to use the corner of a victory garden as in laying out a row.

The entire garden should be outlined so that the rows can be spaced with the boundaries. Then place a heavy cord along the outer line and stretch a line between them.

Having stretched the line, what comes next? Seeds are sown in rows, not in the ground. A garden drill is a shallow continuous trench, while a hill is not an elevation, except in location where a rainfall is heavy. Usually means a spot where several seeds are sown in a group, with the groups spaced at equal intervals.

The depth of the drill is important. You often read that seeds should be sown to a depth of four inches.

Church Will Pay Its Subscribers

MONTREAL, May 26 (UPI)—The Montreal Anglican Church will pay its members Sunday. Members of the congregation, instead of dropping their customary donations into the plate, will instead be on the receiving end of $15,000 which they can use to help fulfill the church's promise of pastoral full employment.

Protest Lay-Off Of East Workers

MONTREAL, May 26 (UPI)—The Montreal Locomotive Works, Ltd., and Montreal's church will pay its members Sunday a telegram to Lord Minister Mitchell protesting against the lay-off of 500 employees of Montreal Locomotive Works (Cars and arsenals) and urged him to take action to remedy this situation and to fulfill the church's promise of pastoral full employment.

Churches have been asked to plant trees.

Broccoli, Delicious Green Easily Grown, Is Profuse Yielder

By HENRY L. PREE

Broccoli, near relatives of cabbage, is one of my favorite vegetables. Unfortunately, broccoli is not commonly grown, but once tried, I am sure the gardener will always grow it.

Always popular on the market, and now more so because of its nutritional value, broccoli is a green that is probably the outstanding representative of cabbage in importance. It is a very nutritious vegetable, set out with your early cabbages, sweet can be eaten in the garden, and it can be harvested when the seedlings later transplanted.

Ten or 12 plants will satisfy the average family, and should be spaced 18 inches apart in a single row. The gardener of a small plot should produce plants now, and a few weeks later, when the seedlings are up, transplant them.

Modern practice favors shallow sowing, half an inch for the small seeds, and a quarter of an inch for the larger ones. Sow the seeds in rows, and then draw a straight line in the loose garden soil, the length of the row. A little later, when the seedlings appear, you should cut and snip off the seedlings of small seedlings when you notice a furnish eddy cluster of them.

When the plants are about six inches tall, thin them to the plants with 1/2 cup of birdseed or mung beans, and feed them with a liquid fertilizer.

Officer States Brake Campaign Proves Success

With Dominion government authorities raising restrictions on gasoline and motor oil tubes and an increasing number of road traffic controls, Edmontonians can expect to see an increase in number of cars parked on the streets according to Sgt. A. E. Woodward, head of the city police traffic department.

The re-appearance of these cars means that drivers will remain in their cars for four or five years, he says, adding that a measure must be taken against them. See Woodward's warning.

ADDED HAZARD

"Our brake campaign, aimed at safety Saturday, has obviously paid off," said Woodward. "Cars on this summer will not have been checked, and it is up to the drivers of these cars to make certain their brakes are in good condition."

Reviewing the Dominion-wide brake campaign, started in every Canadian city by the Chief Constable of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Woodward said the traffic chief stated that a total of 2,025 cars and trucks had been checked and that the vehicles weren't good enough to pass the required test, indicating that about 25 per cent of the motorists were in need of a brake servicing job.

In the last two days, drivers of 1,000 cars have been checked at 100 proving faults. In the remaining weeks, as motorists become more aware of the problem, the number of vehicles threatened steadily.

EXPRESSES THANKS

In thanking Edmontonians for their support of the drive, Sgt. Woodward said, "We are grateful for checking all automobile apparatus down to the last windshield post. We hope that during 2000 weeks if some other emergency trouble comes along, we'll be prepared."

He laid particular emphasis on the need for older cars, stored during the war years, to be driven again. "Now is the time to get the service done before the winter comes along. Stop in at service stations or garages," he advised.

During the campaign, police did not prosecute the drivers of cars found to have faulty brakes. "It is pointed out, however, that driving with bad brakes is a safe offence."

Liberals Aim Make Canada

FIGHT NATION
SAINT JOHN, N.B., May 26—(CP)—The Liberal government aims at full employment, social security and individual freedom as its main goals for Canada, the best country in the world in which to work and live and bring up a family. Finance Minister Martin said at a public meeting last night.

"So much was done in the 1944 general election to lay the basis for national development and social progress in the transition from war to peace that I doubt whether the people of Canada, whose eyes have been open to the importance of what went on, will be surprised at what will come." The program of 1944 is a continuing one, he said, adding, "We are here to stay so that we can carry out."

Annual general meeting of the Dominions Union, a national organization of women, was held in the Westmount Community room. Elections of officers will take place, and all members are urged to attend.

system of ours. No matter what our political differences may be, we must express our opinions and criticize without fear of a Gestapo. His very attitude shows that he is not a Gestapo to try to keep himself in power with no worthiness."

He could be referring to the late Hitler, investigating activities of the late Mr. Hitler. Mr. Jolliffe declared, in reference to his charge, that a secret service, paid for taxpayers' money, was being operated in the Province of Ontario under the name of Capt. William J. Osborne-Dempster.

SAYS OSBORNE-DEMPSTER HAS CLEAN RECORD

TORONTO, May 26—(CP)—The Ontario Conservative Democrat, named Thursday night by provincial CCF leader E. B. Job, to be charged of a secret service, said a secret service, paid for taxpayers' money, was being operated in the Province of Ontario under the name of Capt. William J. Osborne-Dempster.

As far as he is concerned, Commissioner Stringer said, "There is nothing mysterious about Mr. Osborne-Dempster. He is a man of absolute clean and efficient with the provincial police."

The commissioner and Capt. Osborne-Dempster, who Mr. Jolliffe had previously been engaged in "third-rate spying" and kept files containing "secret information and deliberate lies" about 16,000 Ontario citizens, was taken on permanent assignment to the government in 1940 as a member of the antisabotage branch.

Commissioner Stringer said Capt. Osborne-Dempster was paid as a "special constable" from funds of the civil security fund, a war emergency measure.

Capt. Osborne-Dempster's name had not appeared on payrolls at the present because he was not taken on permanent assignment of the provincial civil security fund, Commissioner Stringer added that his name should appear in the next public account.

SAYS HE ALSO USES "GESTAPO"

OSWAHA, Ont., May 26—(CP)—The Liberal party doesn't do things by halves. Ontario Provincial Leader, Mitchell Hepburn said last night in an address referring to Provincial CCF Leader E. B. Job, that he made a statement that Premier Drew maintained a paid secret police organization in Ontario.

"I have enough confidence in Mr. Jolliffe to believe that he would never suggest that he be allowed to give evidence to support my statement," said Mr. Hepburn. "But you must realize it's all that's what I say."

Mr. Hepburn said he was a member of a CCF Gestapo when a former CCF provincial secretary, Mr. W. G. Williams, was shadowed and called before a party tribunal in Toronto, but the Liberal party doesn't do these things.

Arthur Neeson Aches, president of the last Ontario legislature as UCF member, left for Paris, May 26, shortly after the Ontario election. He said that he would return to Canada to explain his activities before a party meeting in Toronto.

World News Highlights Presented in Picture Form

A HORSE FOR OMAR, A JEEP FOR IVAN — THAT'S HOW AMERICANS AND RUSSIANS CELEBRATED VICTORY IN EUROPE
The riding horse that Gen. Omar Bradley strokes here was his gift from Marshal Ivan Konev as U.S. and Russian high officers celebrated the defeat of Germany at a banquet in a country home near Berlin. Marshal Konev looks on.

The jeep, left, and that carbine which Gen. Bradley is handing Marshal Konev were gifts which the U.S. general gave in return. He also conferred the U.S. Legion of Merit decorations on his Russian friend to show his country's esteem.

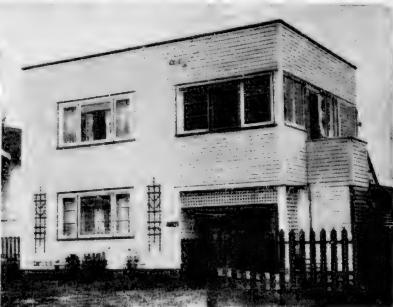

The victory toast is offered here as Gen. Bradley and Marshal Konev were touch glasses at the banquet. Each general was sure in his appreciation of what the forces of the other had done.

POLAND'S HERO FREE POLAND—He is the first Polish soldier to be awarded the rank of general in the Polish People's Army. He is shown here in Warsaw, Poland, where he is now serving as chief of staff of the Polish People's Army.

VANCOUVER WOMAN BUILDS TWO HOUSES FOR
Five years ago Mrs. Garton Crowe of Vancouver built her husband and their two sons a roof over their heads when they returned from overseas. This is her second house, which she hopes to complete soon.

HUSBAND AND TWO SONS WHO ARE OVERSEAS
With only $133 and a lot of ambition, Mrs. Crowe bought two lots in suburban Burnaby. She engaged a carpenter to put up the frame for this seven-room duplex, then took over the job herself. In four months she had made it livable, but lived in the garage until it was finished.

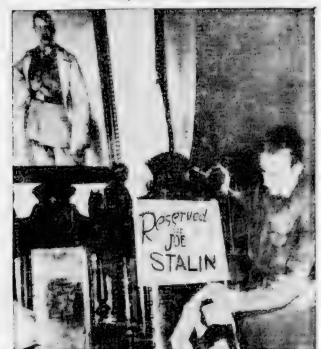

In overalls, Mrs. Crowe really gets down to work when she starts. Both houses are well insulated. Her husband was amazed when she let him in on her secret by sending overseas pictures of the houses.

WHEN THE FIGHTERS WENT OUT—SO DID ERNST—
One of the last pictures taken of him before he was captured and became a prisoner of war, General Ernst Udet, German fighter ace, appears in the role that was to come to many of the leaders of Allied servicemen the world over. Even though his life of glories is slipping away with the Eastern front, he is still going along with the Eastern front, as he did in the days of 1st Division Marine paratroopers in Normandy. On October 10, 1944, he became a prisoner of war when he was captured after being the year's greatest American correspondent. After peace was signed, he was released to receive his honor. Then he was sent to the heavy anti-aircraft gun fire. There he was captured again. Now he is a Signal Corps messenger. He is a Canadian messenger. As a messenger, he has been awarded a sword and a ring.

BRITISH AND RUSSIANS MEET WITH ENTHUSIASTIC HANDSHAKES—Greetings were hearty when British paratroopers and Russian tankmen met on the Baltic coast north of Schwerin. A Canadian in the group was Pte. R. C. Sutherland, from Saskatchewan, seen shaking hands under the gun, third from right.

HAVE A CHAIR, JOE—In the council chamber of a German town's city hall, T-4 Leonard Smith of Detroit, Michigan, uses a swastika flag to dust off a chair "reserved" for Joseph Stalin under a portrait of Hitler.

AWARDED AMERICAN LEGION OF MERIT—In recognition of his service during D-Day operations, Major-General Alfred Ernest Wallford, CBE, MM, ED, of Montreal, now Adjutant-General of the Canadian Army, has been awarded the American Legion of Merit. Presentation of the award was made by Hon. E. A. Atterton, Canadian Ambassador to Canada. Photo shows Mr. Atterton presenting the decoration. General Wallford was Deputy Adjutant and Quartermaster General of the First Canadian Army in the early stages of the Normandy campaign.

ROYAL COMMISSION STUDIES TRAINING OF SERVICE PERSONNEL—The occupational and educational standing to be given men and women for the training they received in the armed forces will be studied by these men who comprise the Royal Commission on Veterans' Qualifications, pictured here and sworn to the oath of office. In their extensive investigations, they will visit the provincial capitals to confer with provincial governments and educational authorities. The Commission, which includes Col. H. L. Lothrop, assistant clerk of the Privy Council; then five other members of the six-man Commission: Stuart R. Ross, Windsor; Hector Duquesne, Montreal; F. Smeltz, Vancouver; J. C. G. Herwog, Ottawa, and D. S. Lyons of Montreal. At right, in uniform, is Commander A. E. Fortington, secretary of the Commission.

WEDDING RINGS AMONG NAZI LOOT—Nazis ghouls in the Buchenwald horror camp stole these thousands of wedding rings from their victims and hid them in a cave where Allied liberators found them.

A SHY NEIGHBOR

DOWN by the creek in a very bushy spot lived a towhee or ground robin. Because he hopped away whenever the Teenie Weenies came near, the little people thought he was rather uppity and didn't care to make friends with them. However, he was really a very nice bird, but terribly shy, and one day the Teenie Weenies found that was so.

The creek was full of fish, but the little men couldn't find any fish worms for bait. The ground was very dry and the men could not find a single worm although they dug everywhere. They even dug in the moist soil near the creek without success, so they probably would never have gone fishing that day if it hadn't been for the towhee.

It was while they were digging near the creek that the little towhee came up to them and began to chirp.

"He want to know what we diggin' for," translated the Chinaman, who understands bird talk better than the other Teenie Weenies.

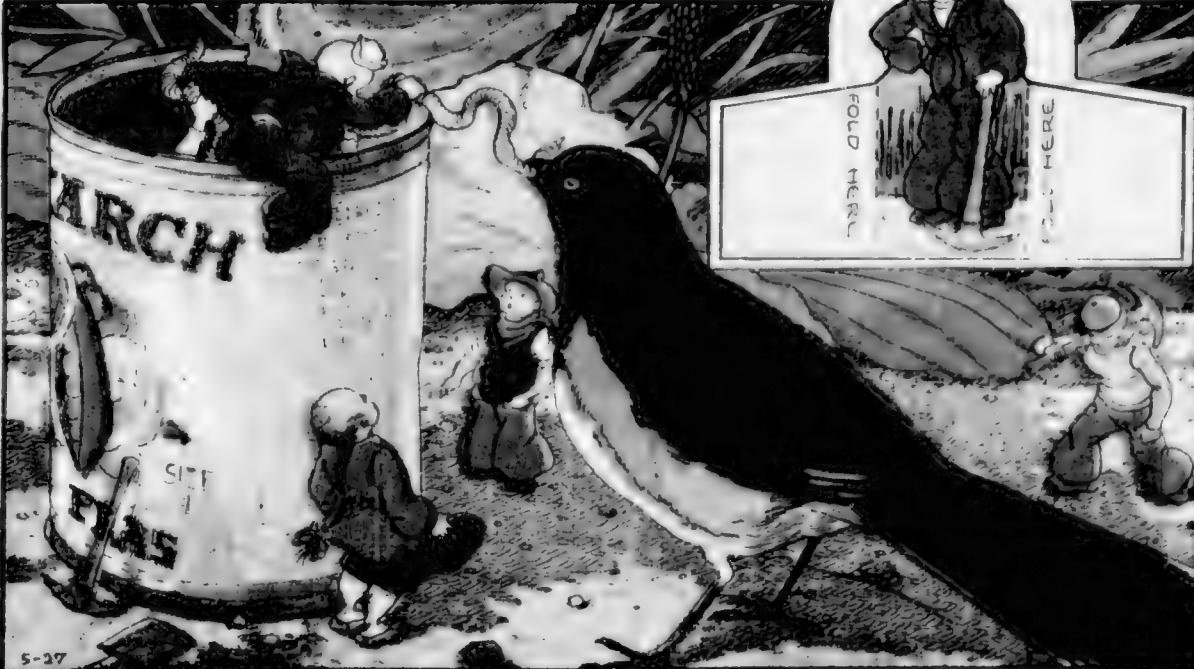

"Tell him we're digging for some watermelons!" snapped the Dunce, who was tired and cross.

That hurt the bird's feelings and it started to walk away, but the Chinaman ran after it and told it not to pay any attention to the Dunce's remarks. "Dunce very tired and plenty fresh," said the Chinaman. Then he told the bird that they were digging for worms to use for bait.

"That's what I thought," chirped the bird, "and I was going to tell them I knew where there was a can of worms which some fishermen left near the creek."

The TEENIE WEENIES

BY WM. DONAHEY.

There are plenty of worms in the can, for I can hear them squirming around, and if you will promise to pull out a few worms for me I'll show you where the can is.

The Chinaman agreed and the bird led the way for the Teenie Weenies. The Sailor boosted the Dunce up to the top of the can and then the Dunce reached down and helped the Sailor up. The Dunce jumped down into the can and soon began handing up the squirming fish worms to the Sailor, who promptly gave them to the bird.

The towhee was not too shy to eat as many worms as it wanted, and the Sailor fed it five before it told the Chinaman that it was satisfied. Then the Teenie Weenies took a fat worm for bait and went fishing. They caught a large minnow, and that night the Teenie Weenies enjoyed a fish fry. They saved a couple of choice pieces of minnow and presented them to the towhee the next morning. Now the Teenie Weenies all know that the bird was merely shy and not uppity as they first thought.
